Jake Takes the Cake

A Word Family Story from Reading Friend
www.readingfriend.com

Copyright © 2016 Reading Friend
All Rights Reserved

For questions or comments about this book, please contact:

Reading Friend
10906 Brentway
Houston, TX 77070
readingfriend@hotmail.com
Phone 281-955-9855

For more Word Family Stories and Songs, please visit www.readingfriend.com.

You’ll find more than 500 free animated interactive books, songs, games and puzzles that help children learn to read.

Jake Takes the Cake
AKE Family words used in this story.

Jake take Cake
bake
Blake
brake
flake make lake
drake
snake fake awake
shake quake earthquake sake

Story Questions.
Put a line under the correct answer.

1. What was Jake?
   a. a bus driver
   b. a baseball player
   c. a baker

2. What did Blake fix?
   a. brakes
   b. boats
   c. bikes

3. Where did Drake live?
   a. in a tree by the river
   b. In a house by the beach
   c. on a lake by the bakery

4. What did Blake like on his cake?
   a. chocolate chips
   b. coconut flakes
   c. strawberries
Meet Jake. Jake is a baker.
Jake works in a bakery.

Jake likes to bake cakes.
Jake makes a living baking cakes.

Meet Jake. Jake is a baker.
Jake works in a bakery.

Jake likes to bake cakes.
Jake makes a living baking cakes.

Fill in the blank with the correct word from the “ake” family.

1. Jake makes a living baking ________.
2. Blake works in a shop fixing ________.
3. Jake likes ______ with coconut ______.
4. The snake is ______ to fool the ______.
5. Sometimes, the ______ will try to ______ the cake.
6. ______ was very afraid of ______.
7. There came an earthquake, and the bakery began to ________.
8. Drake did a double ________ when he saw the _________.
Meet Blake. Blake does brakes.

Blake works in a shop that fixes car brakes.

“Now that idea really takes the cake!” said Blake.
Blake loves cake with coconut flakes. Sometimes, Jake will make a cake with coconut flakes just for Blake.

“You make great cakes,” said Blake to Jake, “but I could do without the snake.”

“The snake is fake to fool the drake so he won't try to take the cake,” said Jake.
Meet Drake. Drake is a... well, a drake.

Drake lives on a lake near Jake's bakery.

“You've made a mistake,” said Drake. “I'll never come here again for cake!”

Away went Drake, and in came Blake to get his cake with coconut flakes.
“For goodness sake! Do you allow snakes where you bake the cakes?” said Drake to Jake.

“If I allow drakes, then I allow snakes. It’s only fair,” said Jake to Drake.

Drake also loves cake with coconut flakes.

Sometimes, Drake will try to take the cake that Jake has baked for Blake.
Meet snake. Snake is a fake. Jake bought the fake snake to scare the drake.

If Drake thinks there is a snake in the bakery, Drake will not try to take the cake.

"Snake, snake!" yelled Drake to Jake.

"If you don't like snakes, stay away from the cakes," said Jake as he sprinkled flakes on the cake.
But Drake did a double take when he saw the snake.

Drake did not know the snake was fake and started to shake. Drake was very afraid of snakes.

One night when Drake was not awake, Jake baked a coconut cake for Blake.

But then, there came an earthquake, and the bakery began to shake.
“For the sake of this cake, I hope the quake doesn’t wake the drake. He will try to take the cake,” said Jake.

But the quake did wake Drake.

“Cake, cake, I smell cake,” yelled Drake as he ran to take Jake’s cake.